FOREWORD

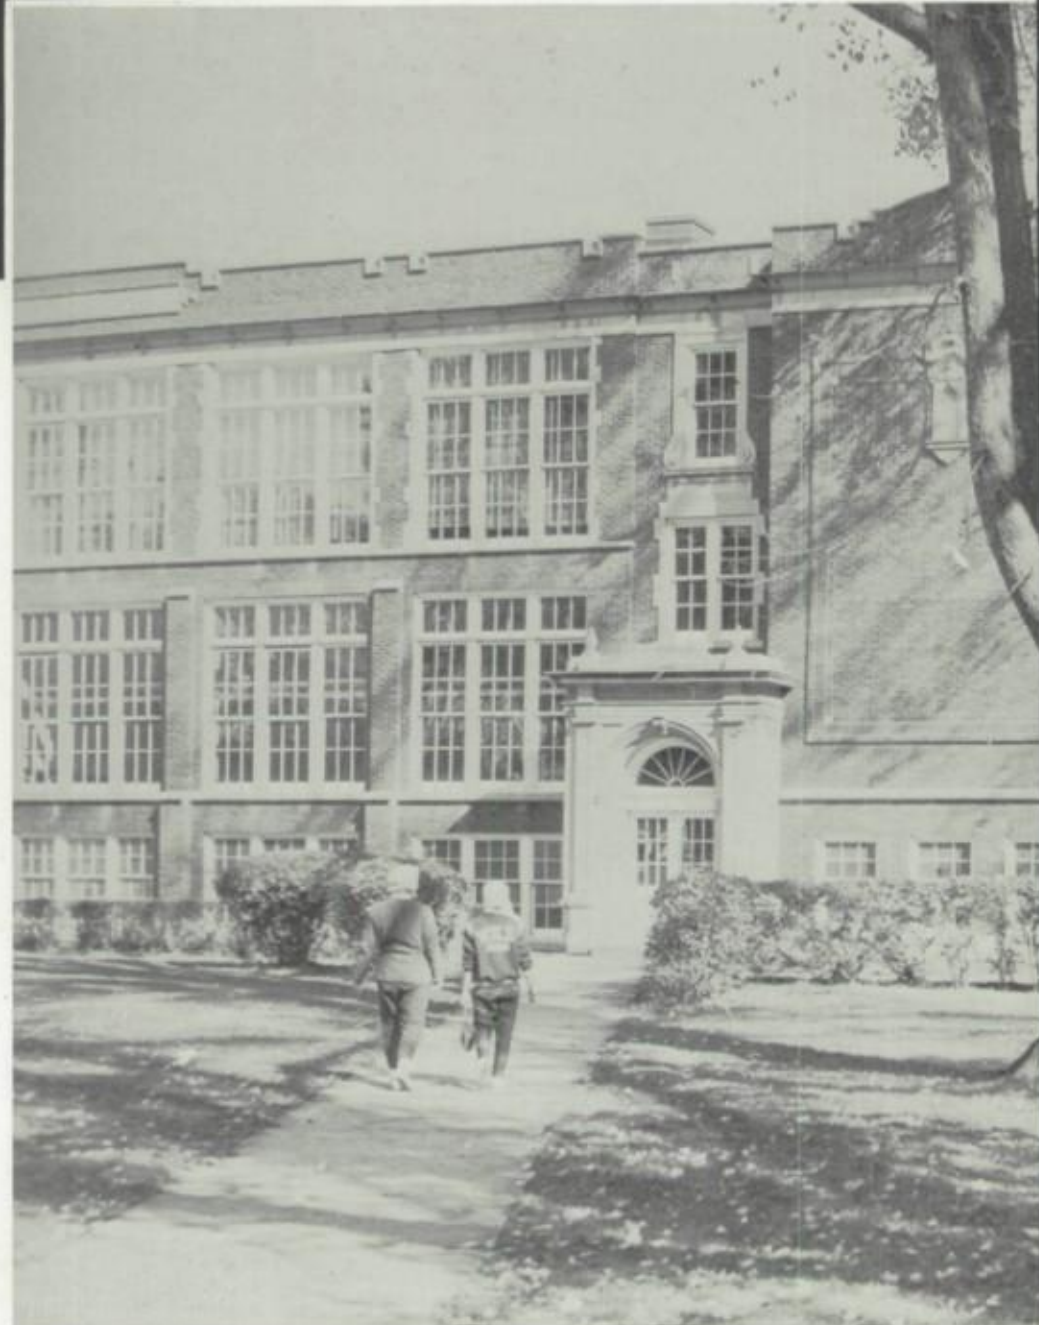

This year we are honoring the "Duke" by placing him in our spotlight.

For many years the "Duke" has been a symbol of W.H.S. As such, he represents our school activities, our sportsmanship, and most important, our school spirit.

To symbolize his constant presence in our school activities, we include a familiar part of the "Duke" on each division page.

His top hat is used to introduce the senior section, for obvious reasons. The monacle is used for the underclassmen section; spats for music; cane for sports; and gloves for activities.

The assembled "Duke" closes the annual with a thanks to the merchants and other contributors who helped make its publication possible.

Annual Staff

Miss Carolyn Crawford

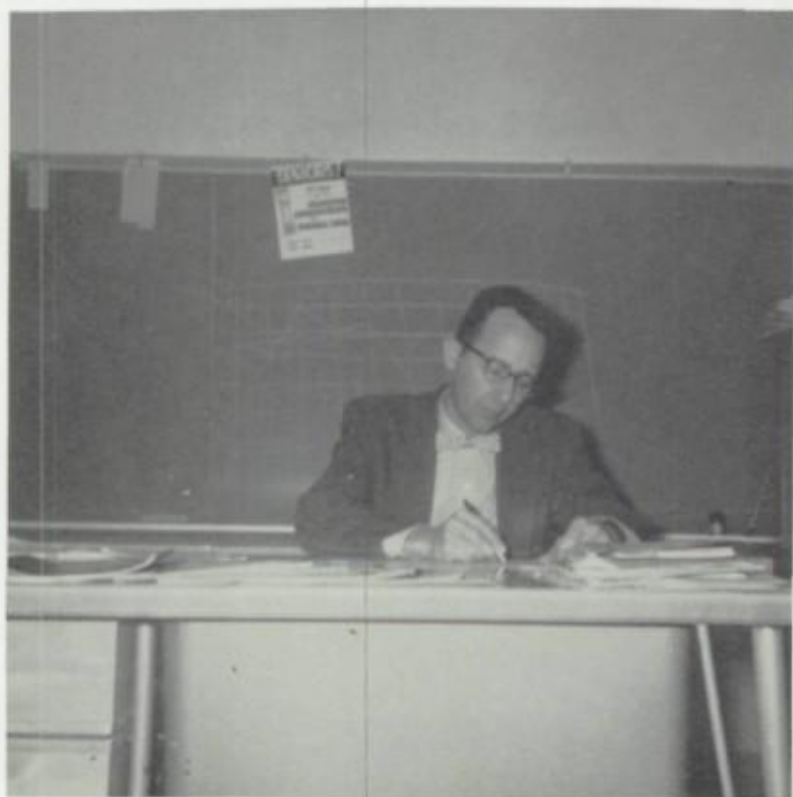

Mr. Richard Dussel

We, the annual staff of 1960, dedicate our annual to our advisors, Miss Crawford and Mr. Dussel, to show our appreciation for their expert counsel and guidance.

Miss Crawford has served as annual staff advisor in the editorial department for three years, and Mr. Dussel has extended his services in the capacity of business advisor for many years. As in the past, their help has been invaluable in the production of the annual, and we sincerely appreciate their having given so freely of their time after school hours.

We realize now that the amount of hard work and responsibility in preparing an annual is indeed great. Much time, effort, and thought has gone into the pages of this yearbook, and without the aid of our competent advisors these pages would never have become a reality.

Honors Advisors

In addition to teaching history and social studies and being an advisor for the annual, Mr. Dussel has charge of Quiz Bee and Student Council. He even has to take time out to pose for pictures.

Miss Crawford kindly took a few minutes out of her busy schedule to pose for these pictures. The students all agree that she is one of their favorite study hall teachers.

Crossing their fingers during moments of anxiety concerning the annual seemed to give Mr. Dussel and Miss Crawford the strength to continue being advisors.

"Everyone should buy an annual!"

Ralph Hayes, Bob Swesey, Larry Simonson, and Beverly Steiner sold annuals.

"Please, sir, buy an ad!"

Diane Hoskin, Barbara Grose, Rosemary
Richmond, Sharon Reimer, and Karen
Jameyson sold ads.

Making up the ruling body of our school system, these six men have the last word on any matter affecting us, from the hiring of teachers to ordering of school supplies, from building a new school to ordering ice cream machines. The men upon whom these responsibilities rest are D. Swanger, pres.; W. Harris, supt.; C. Mosher; P. Gray, clerk; R. Myers; J. McConnell; and C. Walker, vice-pres.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Aside from the volumes of paper work a superintendent's secretary must do, Mrs. Jane Irish's job is far from routine. She is a receptionist, a messenger, a change-maker, a Band-aid dispenser, and sole operator of the lost and found department. It's a demanding job done by a versatile person.

There's never a dull moment for a principal's secretary, Mrs. Beverly Lee. Besides managing the usual secretarial duties, she is our unofficial treasurer, the teachers' gal Friday, the writer of passes, the carrier of messages—and that's just a beginning. Quite a job—quite a secretary.

Mr. Harris is Wellington High School's "man behind the scene." Although we seldom see him, we all know that he has a most important position. He is a very busy man and that is why he is not often seen by the students.

He deserves a great deal of credit for the efficient way in which our school is handled. Mr. Harris has been with us for several years and we certainly hope he remains many more.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. McCormick has long served as our firm, but understanding principal.

Most people visualize a high school principal sitting behind a desk all day, but not Mr. McCormick. He may be seen in the most unexpected places at the most unexpected times, seeing that all is in order.

He has many difficult tasks to perform. We all realize he deals with them justly and wisely, and that his decisions have been made for the benefit of the student body.

ENGLISH

"But who else could've written 'Hamlet' except Shakespeare?"

Mrs. Patton, Mrs. Stannard, Miss Crawford, Mr. Carr, Miss Manker, Mrs. Green

LANGUAGE & SPEECH

"Good grief, put on a play in French?"

Mrs. Piper, Mrs. Grissinger, Mrs. Norton

MATH & SCIENCE

"One drop of nitroglycerin plus one match equals one explosion?"

Miss Bennett, Mr. Shellhouse, Mr. Gove, Mr. Kelly, Mr. Zody, Mrs. Wagner

ITY

"Are vocational courses that funny?"

Mrs. Gannett, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Zody, Mrs. Baker

HISTORY & GOVERNMENT

"But of course the War of 1812 was fought in 1812!"

Mr. Lutz, Mr. Dussel, Mr. Green

VOCATIONAL & MUSIC

"Have you heard the one about . . .?"

Mr. Barbe, Mr. Shepherd, Mr. Forsythe, Mr. Hawley, Mr. Campbell

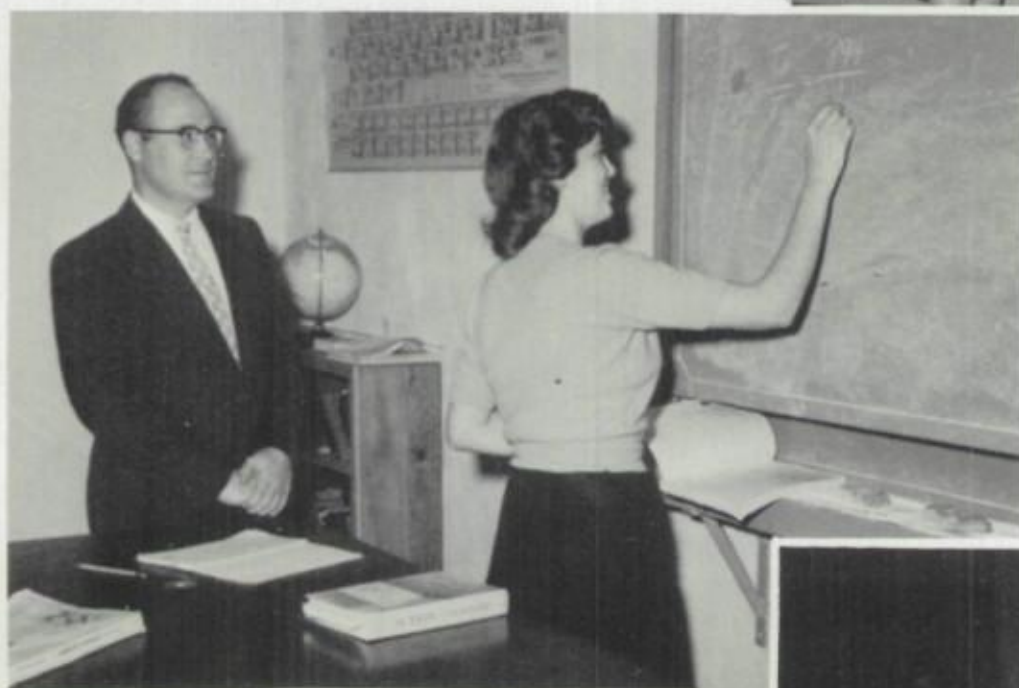

"Don't forget that it has to be to the nearest sixteenth of an inch."

Mr. Barbe gives this little warning to Jim Althaus, who is making a drawing for mechanical drawing class.

"Veni, vidi, vici!"

Kay Carpenter and Dave Dickason are receiving help on their Latin from Mrs. Piper.

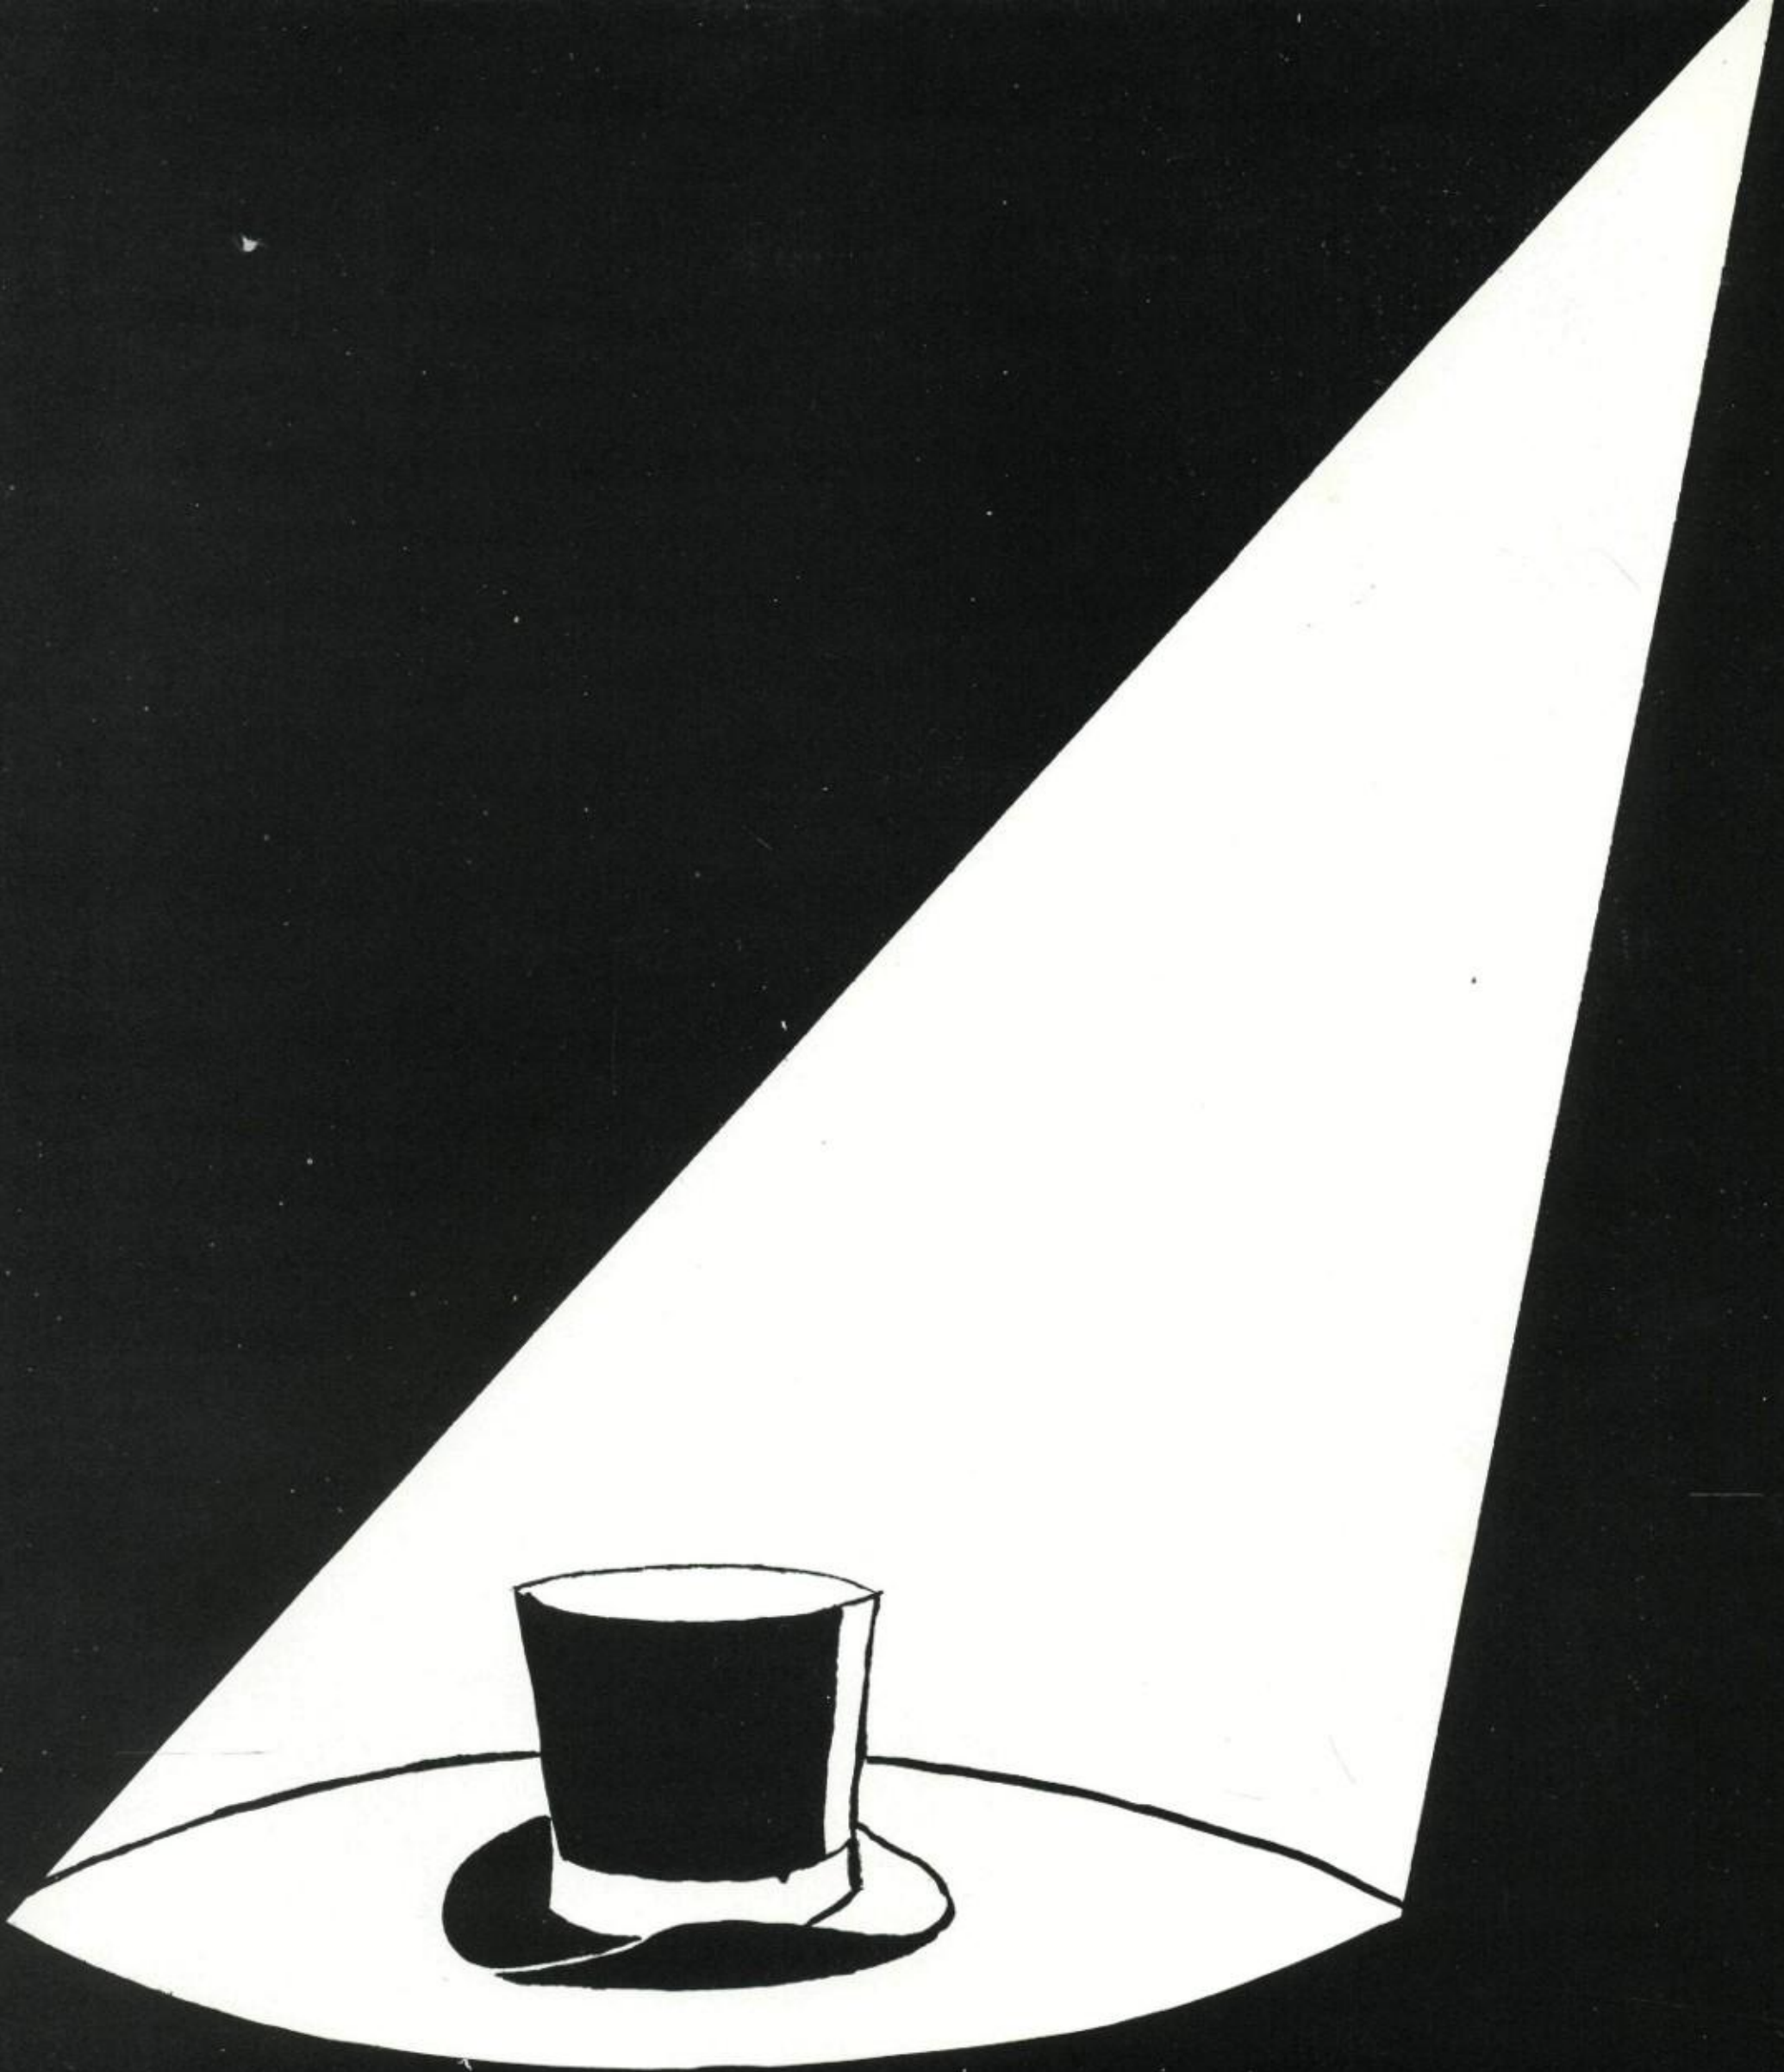

$$\frac{V_1}{V_2} = \frac{T_1}{T_2}$$

Shara Simonson is trying to master a chemistry problem using Charles' Law. Mr. Kelly is giving his able assistance.

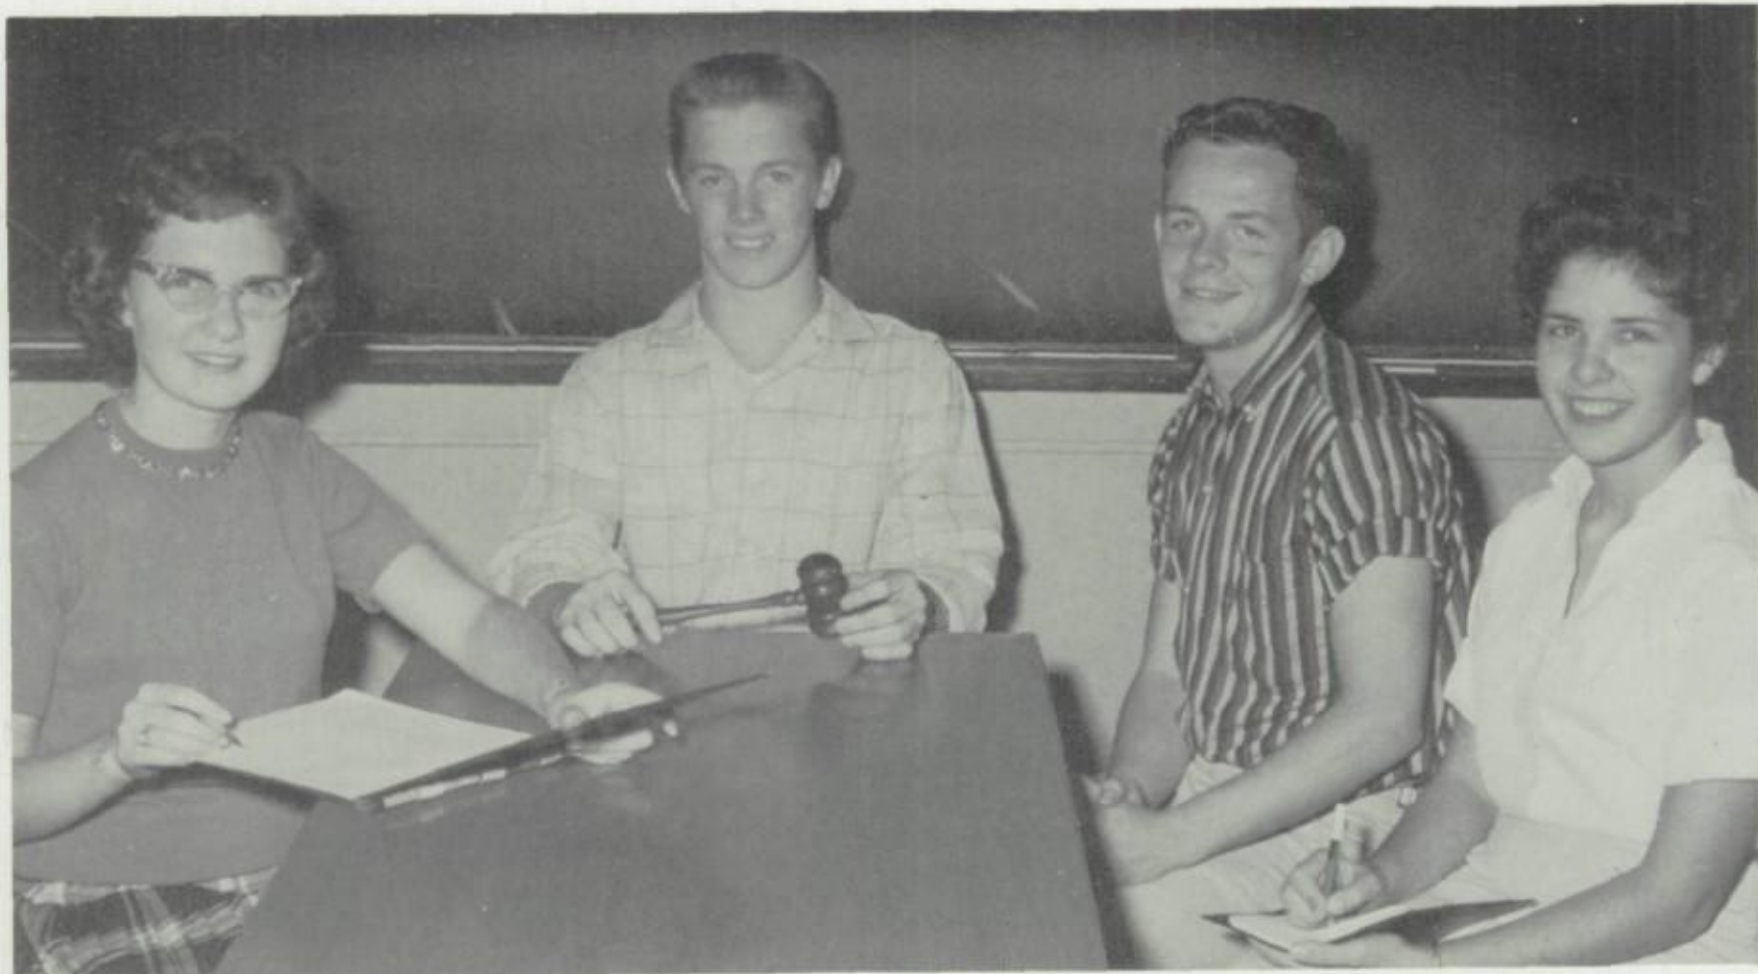

"Your debits and credits must balance."

While Bob Parsons looks on knowingly, Mrs. Robertson points out some fundamentals of bookkeeping to Rita Whitney.

SENIORS

It has been a busy year for this year's senior class. Besides having to hurry to the third floor each and every morning, we have also been in the usual turmoil of preparing for graduation. Posing for pictures, ordering announcements, signing autographs, and paying out money, the class has been led by officers David Lattimer, president; John Oakley, vice-president; Anna Lee Williams, secretary; and Donna Settlemire, treasurer.

Now, as we look forward to the future, we shall also have the memories of high-school days—our educational opportunities, friendships, favorite teachers, and our much enjoyed activities.

CLASS PROPHECY

Time flies quickly. It is the year 2000 and the class of 1960 is gathering outside the high school auditorium for the annual alumni banquet. As we walk up the steps we are greeted by our host for the evening, his honor, the Duke of Wellington. The evening progresses slowly onward and the speaker's words fade far into the background while the Duke reminisces about the class of '60.

Well, well, there is Carol Ahlgrim, who is recently portraying Caroline Morton in the new Broadway hit, "Real Gone With the Wind."

Tom Brown and wife Nancy Kurtz are now proud owners of the T-Bone Spread. And speaking of old married couples, there is Marie Honoshofsky, Deanna Good, and Phylis Offinier with their diamonds still sparkling. My, my, and after all these years, too.

* Say, I hear if you want some good food you should try the Bar Queen Restaurant, owned by Dortha Shellar and Liz Wilczak, with chief cook and bottle washer Larry Peterson.

Chance Murray, who is the vocational agriculture teacher at W. H. S., seems to feel right at home among his farmer friends, Kenny, Raab, Allen Gillette, and Ralph Hayes. Lewis Eaton has become the Lorain County Extension Agent.

Caroline's Pizza House, owned by Caroline Leonardi, seems to be the most popular spot for the younger generation.

Darlene Moore's dream of a sewing school has at last come true. She and her assistant, Marjorie Faulkner, are now chatting with Sally Lampen, who has become famous all over Ohio for her handmade tablecloths.

Bruce Bradstock is now cover artist for "Looked" magazine, which is currently featuring Grace Sawyer, Broadway star.

John Oakley is following in his father's footsteps as manager of Armco Division in Mason City, Iowa, with able assistance from his secretary, Janice Kert.

We certainly have our share of teachers in the class of '60. Let's see, Anna Lee Williams, English, teaching in Australia; Carol Foster, second grade, teaching in Washington, D.C.; Richard Hyde, math, taking the place of our beloved Mr. Gove in Wellington; Eugene Merrill, science at Brighton, Ohio; and oh, yes, Kay Foster, who has replaced Miss Francis on Ding Dong School. Karen Greenbank has become a very successful home economics teacher. How could I forget Peter Pitts who has, surprisingly, become professor of art at Oberlin College?

"Boogie" Beal, Texas multimillionaire, who last evening lost a great deal of money to Pat Teehan, world champion pool player, is seeking advice from his lawyer, Mike Bealer, who always could talk himself out of a jam.

Harold Hartman and Tom Lamphere have made a career out of the Air Force. Dennis Jackson, Jerry Kirkpatrick, and David Workman have decided that the Navy is their best bet.

Maybe I can talk Mary "Olanza" BeVier, currently singing in "Ill Mamma Mia," into singing for us before the evening is over. How nice it is that Mary and Diane Hoskin, her accompanist, have gone down the street of success together. Also members of the musical world are: Ellen Meyer, solo clarinetist for the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra; Jean Poiner singing on "Professional Hour." Wilder's Dance studios have also earned great recognition in the musical world with that ever charming Jim Wilder as owner.

Sandra Smith has become a famous dress designer with Beverly Steiner, Betty Lasky, and Patty Stanley modeling her beautiful creations.

Al Pasadyn is now editor of "Guns Illustrated." This month Al is featuring Ed Romeis, big game hunter.

Jack Slazman, famous hair stylist, is owner of that well-known chain of Jack's Beauty Salons. He is aided by three competent beauticians: Janet Knapp, Ellen Bealer, and Mary Raab.

In the medical field is Leland Seeley, pharmacist; Rosemary Richmond and Barbara Grose, medical technicians; and registered nurses Joyce Gossman, Mary Ellen Davidson, and Carolyn Preston.

Kermit Grose's mink farm seems to be doing well, as is Gary Winson's tobacco farm in North Carolina.

Diane Wright is now secretary to Mr. McCormick and Rose Sikora is secretary to Mr. Harris.

Iva Walker is head chemist at Dupont Research Laboratory with assistance from David Lattimer.

Gary Perkins is president of A.M.F. Joe Farago is manager of the "Globe Trotters."

Eleanor Sprague is owner of Randall Park, with Jim O'Keefe, head jockey.

The telephone office is literally being run by the class of '60: Donna Settemire, Karen Jameyson, Charlene Crile, Kay Ford, Sharon Reimer, and Joyce Riddle are chief operators.

Larry Simonson is head football coach at Ashland College.

David Truman has taken over his father's business at the Truman's Funeral Home.

Bob Swesey is manager of Chevelot Division in New York.

Steve Patton has returned from Montana for the event and is a successful forester.

All of a sudden all was quiet in the auditorium. The "Duke" awoke from his dreams in time to see many eyes turned on him. Down the aisle came Dave Lattimer, the president of the class of '60. He helped the "Duke" to the stage and announced that this 2000 Annual Alumni was held in his honor for his many long years of faithful service to our alma mater. We hope he will remain here forever.

CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1960, being of fairly sound mind and reasonably good character do declare this to be our last will and testament.

We bequeath:

To the juniors, our homerooms on the third floor to keep them in good shape in their old age.

To the sophomores, our quiet and studious ways.

To the freshmen, hope for the future.

Individual Bequests:

I, Carol Ahlgrim, leave Caroline Morton to Waldo Anderson.

I, Jim Althaus, leave the school and everything that goes with it to my brother Bill.

I, Don Backhaus, leave my subscription to Popular Mechanics to Jon Ludlum.

I, Boogie Beal, leave Mr. Dussel my partly empty fifth. May he rest in peace.

I, Ellen Bealer, leave.

I, Mike Bealer, leave my ability to get away with anything to my little brother Jimmy in hopes that he will leave this same ability to Tim.

I, Mary BeVier, leave my two years of outlines to Mr. Dussel.

I, Bruce Bradstock, leave my ability to eat uptown at noon to anyone who likes to eat fast and run.

I, Tom Brown, will my ability to climb three flights of stairs to my brother John.

I, Ralph Caruthers, leave my shy, quiet ways to anyone who doesn't need girls.

I, Charlene Crile, leave my ability to get on the bus last and off first to anyone who lives on Route 18.

I, Mary Davidson, leave my ability to sleep at slumber parties to anyone who is partial to green, blue, or red toes.

I, Lewis Eaton, leave my homeroom seat in Mr. Dussel's room for three years to any unlucky person who has to take it.

I, Joe Farago, leave my basketball shoes to my little brother Jim.

I, Marjorie Faulkner, will my seat in 2nd period study hall to my sister.

I, Kay Ford, leave a box of tranquilizing pills to everyone in my driving class.

I, Carol Foster, leave many good times, many headaches, and a large bottle of aspirins to the next editor of the annual.

I, Kay Foster, leave my place in the pool room to Carol Wurtz.

I, Allen Gillette, will my seat on the 3rd floor to any bird who likes 3rd floor.

I, Deanna Good, leave my ability to gab in study hall without being caught to my brother Ernie.

I, Joyce Gossman, will not leave anything but will take with me the last of the Gossman girls.

I, Karen Greenbank, leave the two moles on the left side of my face to Sharon Resar.

I, Barbara Grose, leave the right to Halloween Mr. Dussel's house to all the juniors.

I, Kermit Grose, leave the teachers with peace and quiet.

I, Harold Hartman, leave my quiet studious ways to Roger Mohrman.

I, Ralph Hayes, leave my father to the school.

I, Marie Honoshofsky, leave head drum majorette to Cindy Jones.

I, Diane Hoskins, being of sound mind and strong arms, leave my position as choir accompanist to anyone who likes music and a lot of work.

I, Dick Hyde, leave my ability to get along with the teachers to any deserving person.

I, Dennis Jackson, leave all my height and hair to Mr. Barbe.

I, Karen Jameyson, leave my seat for three years in Mr. Gove's homeroom to any lucky? underclassman who wants it.

I, Janice Kert, leave my "mild" temper to Betty Settle-mire, for she may need it sometime.

I, Jerry Kirkpatrick, leave my ability to be given honorable mention as tackle to a lucky Duke.

I, Janet Knapp, will my seat in Mr. Gove's homeroom which I have had for the last three years to anyone who wants to become a good basketball or football player.

I, Nancy Kurtz, will my ability to chew gum without getting caught to anyone that lucky.

I, Sally Lampen, leave my quiet ways to any underclassman that wants them.

I, Thomas Lamphere, will my bright colored pants to Mr. Gove.

I, Betty Lasky, will my nick name "Blondie" and a supply of "Golden Rinse" to Sharon Berling.

I, David Lattimer, leave my ability to horse around in Mr. Gove's math classes and still manage to pass to Dan Dickason.

I, Caroline Leonardi, leave my seat in Mr. Gove's homeroom to any underclassman who is lucky enough to get it.

I, Eugene Merrill, leave the school to present and future students to wreck as they see fit.

I, Eugene Merrill, leave the school to present and future students to wreck as they see fit.

I, Ellen Meyer, will my long bus ride to anyone who likes to travel.

I, Darlene Moore, leave my seat in civics class to anyone who wants it.

I, Chance Murray, leave to Glen Kurtz my ability to remain calm when around goodlooking girls.

I, John Oakley, leave my seat in trig class to anyone who is dumb enough to want it.

I, Phyllis Offineer, leave my ability to get a diamond ring in my senior year to my sister Judy.

I, Jim O'Keefe, leave the ability to pass geometry without doing homework, an unaccomplished challenge.

I, Albert Pasadyn, will my ability to make pizza to my sister Nancy and to Mr. Gove.

I, Steve Patton, leave my shy, quiet ways to Dan Dickason.

I, Gary Perkins, leave my uncensored edition of "Lady Chatterley's Lover" to Dan Dickason, who has already read the best parts.

I, Larry Peterson, will to Joe Farago my height and ability to play basketball.

I, Pete Pitts, leave this good, kind, gracious school with all the rest of my lies. Bye.

I, Jean Poiner, give my dimples to Bev Steiner so we can keep them in the family.

I, Carolyn Preston, leave my homecoming crown (which will be a delicate shade of brown by that time) to a very happy junior girl.

I, Kenneth Raab, will be glad to leave this school to my twin brother, Keith.

I, Mary Sue Raab, leave my nick name "Blondie" to my cousin, Phyllis Carter.

I, Sharon Riemer, leave to anybody who has enough ambition to climb three flights of stairs in the morning, the third floor.

I, Rosemary Richmond, leave a bottle of hand lotion to that soft and spongy Gary Grose.

I, Joyce Riddle, leave my shyness and blushing to Mr. Shellhouse, who needs it.

I, Eddie Romeis, leave my ability to get away with chewing gum in all my classes to Larry Naylor.

I, Jack Salzman, leave the teachers of W.H.S. in a state of complete confusion and mass celebration.

I, Grace J. Sawyer, leave my bottle of peroxide to anyone who wants to go bald.

I, Leland Seeley, leave Mr. Dussel with an empty bottle of aspirins.

I, Donna Settlemyre, leave my ability to get caught while standing in the halls with a certain friend to anyone who hasn't got caught yet.

I, Dortha Sheller, leave my freckles to anyone who wants them.

I, Rose Sikora, leave my books to anyone who wants them.

I, Larry Simonson, leave my football suit to anyone who can run like a horse.

I, Sandra Smith, leave my dear homeroom to my sister Sharon.

I, Eleanor Sprague, bequeath to Donna Day my red hair, freckles, and "wonderful" ability to blush, knowing she will greatly appreciate it.

I, Patty Stanley, leave my first period gym class to Barbara Perry.

I, Bev Steiner, leave a pair of slacks and a crewneck sweater to Mrs. Baker, and my big mouth to Mr. Shellhouse, who really doesn't need it a bit.

I, Bob Swesey, on the advice of my many teacher friends (?) leave this school with much haste and little regret.

I, Pat Teehan, leave my ability to make Mr. Barbe happy to Tom McQuaid.

I, Dave Truman, leave my job as basketball manager to any sucker who likes to mop floors.

I, Iva Walker, leave to the faculty, to comfort them in their old age, the knowledge that all their efforts were not in vain.

I, Jim Wilder, leave my charm and suave manners to Mr. Kelly.

I, Anna Lee Williams, leave to the faculty four red-haired brothers and a supply of nerve tonic.

I, Liz Wilzack, leave my seat in my classes to my brother Charles.

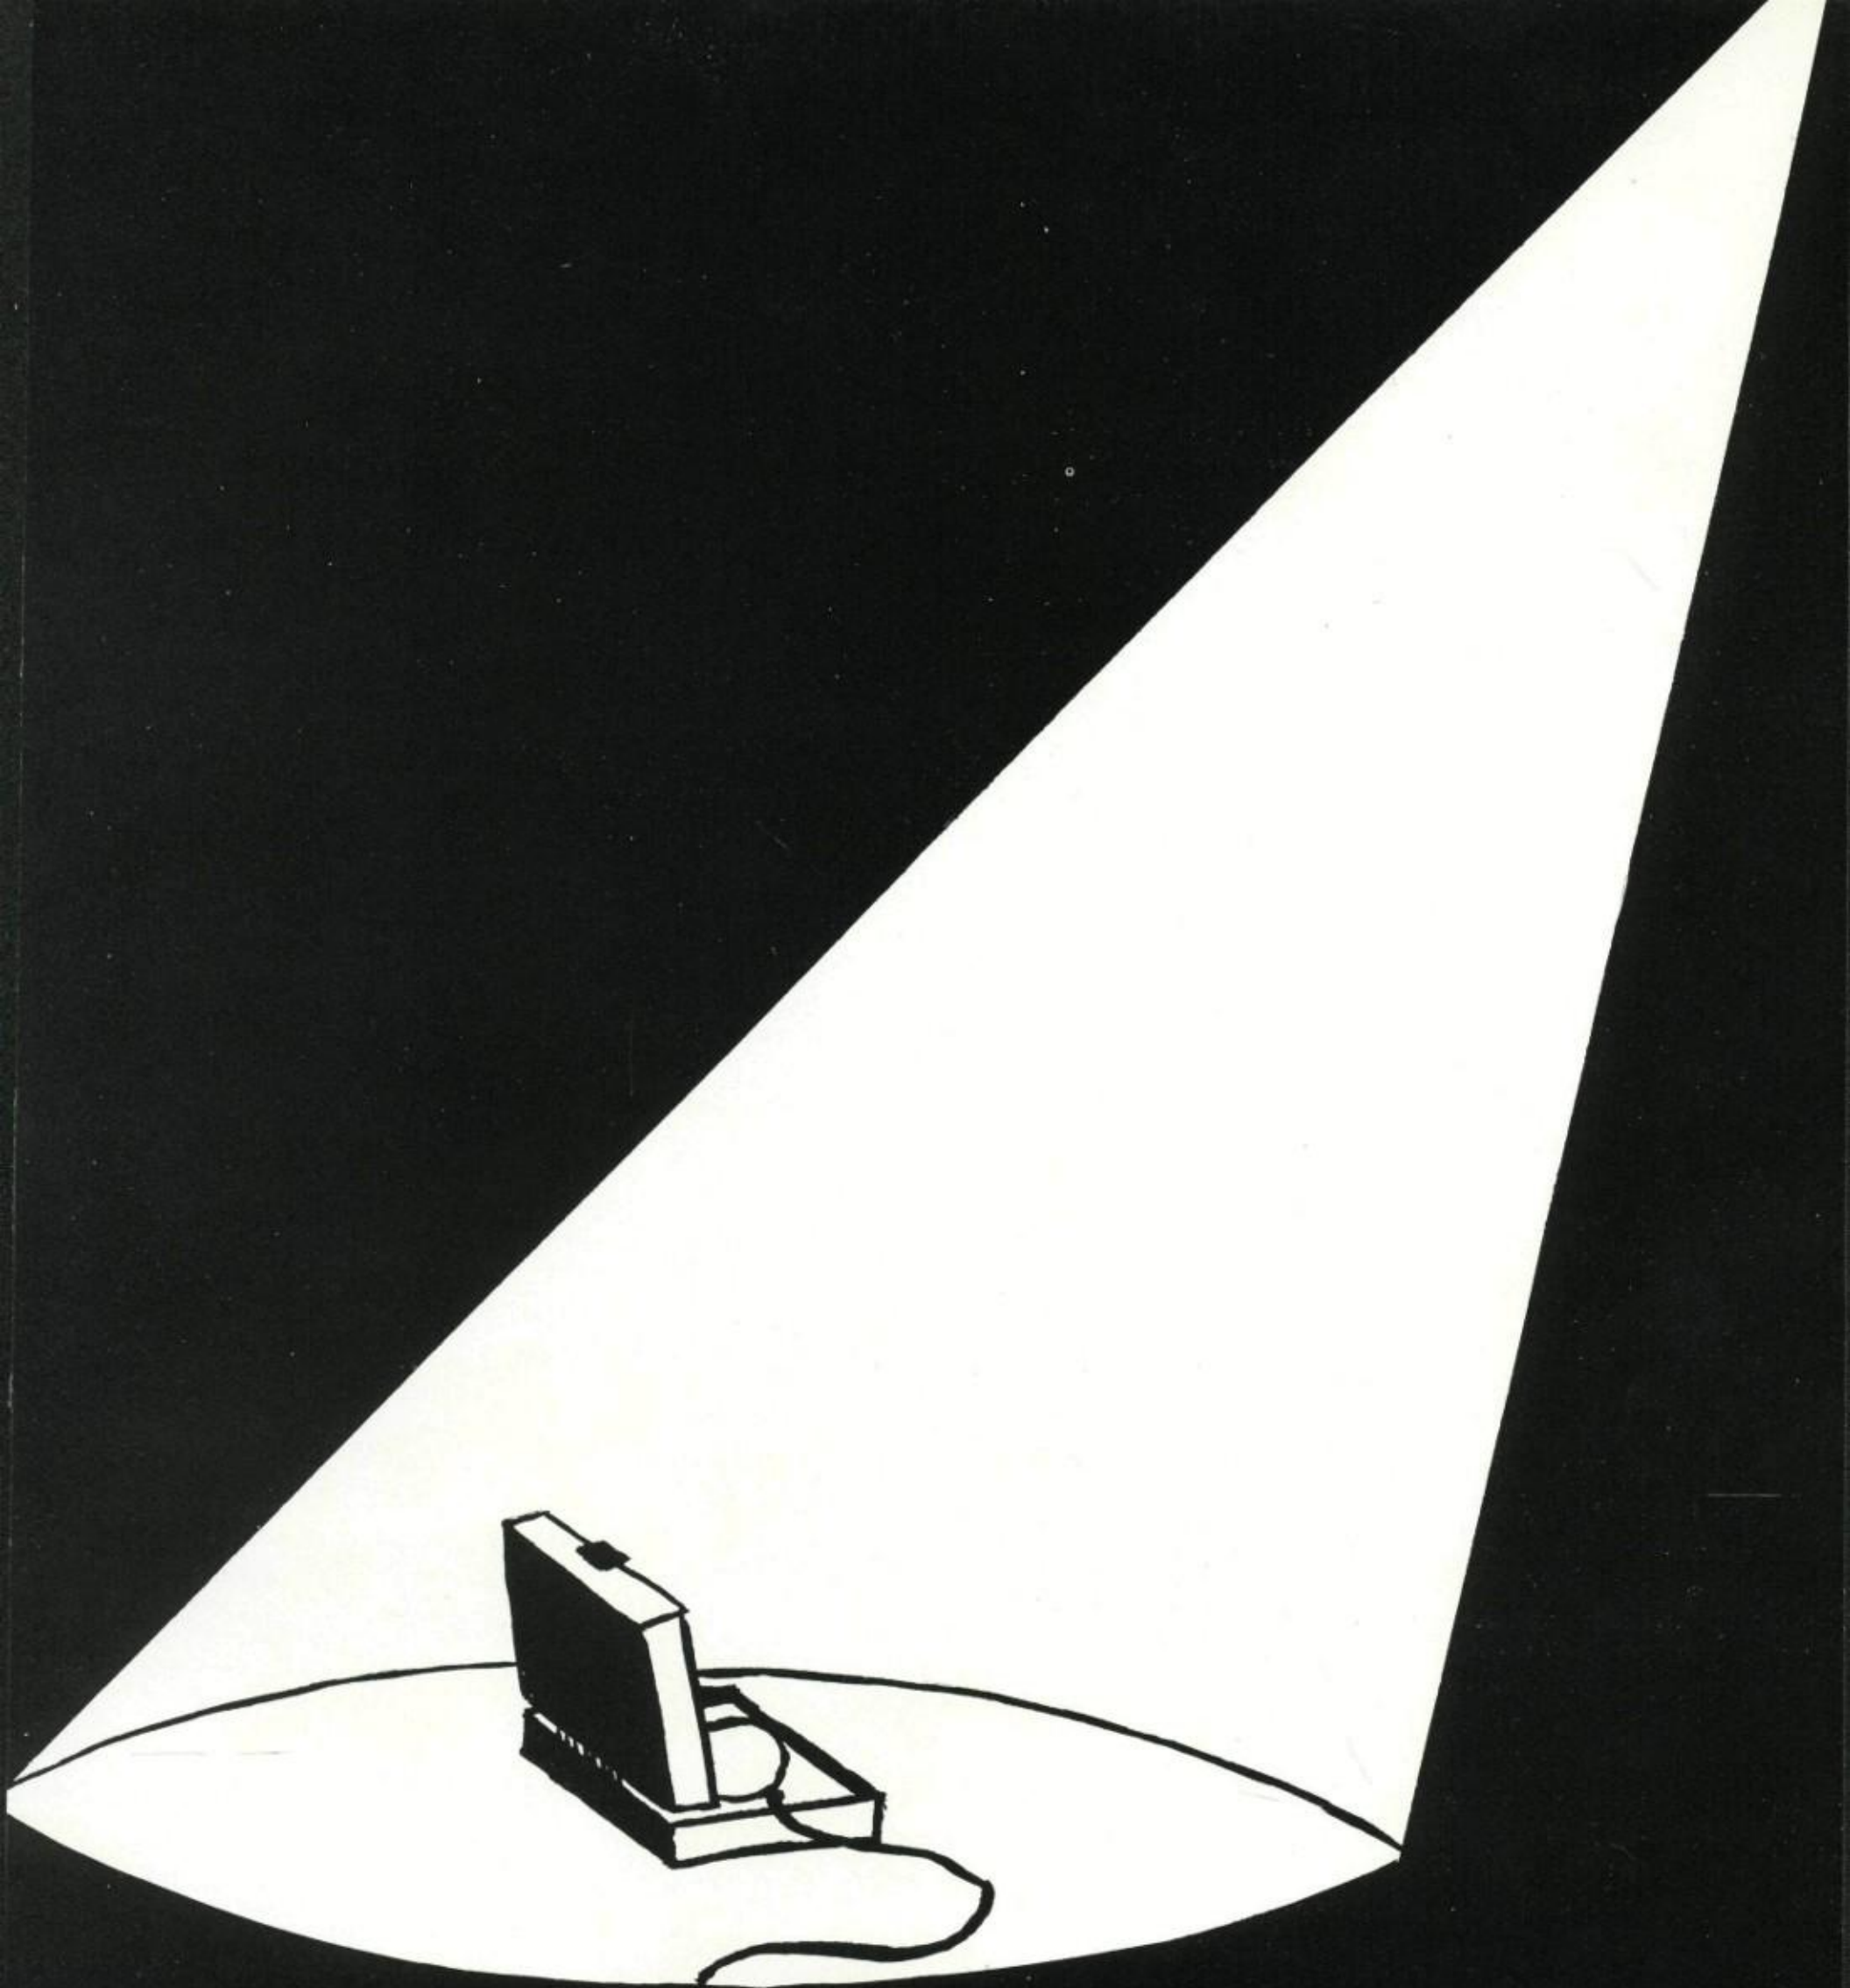

I, Gary Winson, leave this school to the Board of Education.

I Dave Workman, leave my ability to come late every morning to Mr. Shellhouse, who is just jealous.

I, Diana Wright, leave my three flights of stairs to climb every morning to anyone who wants it.

The industrious sophomores have realized that in one more year the responsibilities of the junior-senior prom will fall upon them. In the light of this prospect, they have devoted their energies to money-making projects. In the fall they had a thriving business with the football concession stand. This spring they are scattered about town selling candy and magazines to any likely prospects. Class officers are Franklin Dublo, sec.; Bill Wacker, vice-pres.; Tom Sugaski, pres.; and Bruce Travis, treas.

"The janitors will have fun now!"

"We still need our afternoon siesta."

Kay McQuaid, Paula Aviles, Darrel Davis, Jerry Puka, David Starkey still enjoy resting whenever possible.

"It looks just like her!"

The freshmen still enjoy drawing pictures of their favorite teachers. Jackie Conrad and Jim Mohrman did this piece of fine art work.

"Quick, take it before she sees us!"

Nancy Navartil and Carol Jordan are caught in the act here. Chuck Lampen is the innocent person.

"You can be lazy when you're a junior!"

Judy Henning, Sandy Skelton, and Jon Ludlam believe juniors can afford to take life easy.

The W.H.S. Band, under the direction of Mr. William Shepherd, is one of the only school organizations to remain active during part of the summer. Anyone living in the area of the athletic field gets a nightly August preview of the band's music and formations as the group practices diligently for the football half-time shows.

No sooner is football season over, however, than the concert band is put to the task of preparing for its season of programs. This year's activities included the exchange assembly with Clearview, and the annual band festival, held in Margaretta. The season ended with the band's spring concert in May.

Band's Year

This year the band members chose four seniors as their officers. It is the duty of these elected to cooperate with Mr. Shepherd and relieve him of as many functional tasks as possible. Pictured at right are Carolyn Preston, treasurer; Donald Backhaus, president; Mr. Shepherd; Anna Lee Williams, vice-president; Diane Hoskin, secretary.

Being on the varsity team this year provided good experience for six sophomores who will be the nucleus of the team for the next two years. This experience is hoped to have provided for a winning team next year.

At the end of the year the members of both the varsity and reserve teams were treated to a banquet, which was prepared by the members of the P.T.A.

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT COUNCIL

The student council members are chosen each year by their respective classes. There are two members from the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes; and the seventh and eighth grades have one representative. They meet once each week with Mr. Dussel, their advisor.

Jane Baker; Tom Sugaski, treasurer; Louise Matcham, secretary; Mr. Dussel, advisor; Gary Perkins, president; Carolyn Preston, vice-president; Don Le Beau, social chairman; Cary Neptune, program chairman; Bob Stanfield.

QUIZ BEE

Anyone may try out for Quiz Bee. The students meet once a week to discuss current events with Mr. Dussel, their sponsor. The panel of six is determined by the grade made in a test at the end of that period.

In the spring these six finalists compete with panels from other schools in the Lakeland Conference in a general information quiz.

Last year the Wellington six tied for second place in the conference.

FRENCH CLUB

Above are the charter members of the French Club. To become a member, one must have two years of French and maintain a "B" average. The group meets once a month at the homes of members.

Officers are: Cathy Babcock, pres.; Maribelle Murray, vice-pres.; Noreen Harris, sec.; Rita Whitney, treas.

Row 1: C. Copeland, N. Harris, B. Shobe, S. Smith. Row 2: B. Grose, M. Murray, C. Babcock, Mrs. Grissinger, R. Whitney. Row 3: J. Ludlam.

SPQR

Senatus Populusque Romani, or the Senate and the people of Rome, is the name of our Latin club. After one semester of "B" average grades, a student is eligible for initiation into the group. The following year, old members are honored by slaves at a banquet. The officers have very distinguished titles.

Row 1: J. Thoms, S. Merrill, L. Bingman, C. Babcock, E. McConnell, M. Marley, K. Cowles, J. Heflinger, E. Stearns. Row 2: R. Chapman, A. Williams, N. Loudin, C. Gates, D. Bebout, R. Miller, S. Oney, A. Mauer, J. Parks, C. Jordan. Row 3: C. Foster, J. Gossman, I. Walker, C. Preston, K. Carpenter, S. Jones, S. Skelton, R. Patton. Row 4: F. Dublo, D. Dickason, D. Lattimer, C. Neptune, B. Travis, J. Salzman, J. Brown, K. Jones, Mrs. Piper. Row 5: B. Wacker, T. Sugaski, D. Sheffield, D. Hoskin, D. Backhaus, D. Pfeiffer.

The Hi Times, under the direction of Mrs. Stannard and Mrs. Gannett, was published each six weeks by a different class. The executive staff included Eleanor Sprague, art editor; Cherrie Copeland, make-up editor; Sandy Skelton and Connie Campbell, circulation managers; Pat Atkinson, assistant editor; Cathy Babcock, circulation manager; Ruth Truman, art editor; and Iva Walker, editor. Not pictured are Dave Mellick, editorial editor, and Kay Ford, business manager.

HI TIMES PAPER

Mrs. Gannett's secretarial class was responsible for typing and printing the paper.

P E P C L U B

Pep Club was organized for the first time this year under the direction of Mrs. Zody and the cheerleaders. This group sits together at basketball and football games to aid the cheerleaders in supporting our team. Since space is limited and the club is large, this picture includes only the officers, the cheerleaders, and the advisor.

Row 1: Joyce Gossman, pres.; Cathy Babcock, vice pres.; Janet West, treas.; Shara Simonson, sec.
Row 2: Louise Matcham, Eileen Lattimer, Mrs. Zody, advisor; Sharon Jones, Josie Farago.

Junior Red Cross has a representative from each of the seven top grades. This organization sponsors programs for the Oberlin Children's Home and is responsible for the annual Red Cross Drive.

Row 1: B. McConnell, C. Campbell, P. Hawkins, S. Worcester, B. Sugaski. Row 2: M. Robart, N. Navratil, K. Hayes, B. Howk, H. Farago.

"Anyone for cage ball?"

Row 1: A. Maurer, N. Skinner, B. Simkinson, D. Kay, J. Jewett. Row 2: A. Whiton, J. Wacker, S. Wacker, J. Harmon, A. Devereaux.

"Exercises, exercises, we must do our exercises."

Row 1: S. Resar, J. Friend, H. Matthews. Row 2: M. Murray, S. Young, R. Miller, J. Parks.

OFFICE ASSISTANTS

The office assistants help Mrs. Irish and Mrs. Lee in the offices. Typing, running errands, and answering the telephone are some of their duties. These girls should be thanked for their fine assistance.

LIBRARIANS

These girls spend their free periods helping in the library. Their duties are many and varied. Checking in and out of books, keeping the books in good condition, and helping students find what they want are just a few of them.

Row 1: E. Lattimer, N. Navratil, C. LeBeau, B. Searles, S. Clark, J. Laisure, S. Smith, D. Good, S. Merrill, H. Matthews, Row 2: J. Brown, M. Murray, B. Steiner, Mrs. Patton, S. Young, B. Lasky, K. Greenbank, S. Berling, D. Kay. Row 3: Mrs. Grissinger, M. Raab, M. Hohoshofsky, L. Wacker.

STAGE CREW

This volunteer organization which consists entirely of high school boys is helpful to the school in many ways. When any heavy work such as moving scenery or setting up band risers is necessary, this group is called on and complies readily and willingly. In the event of school assemblies and class plays, the stage crew is in charge of all arrangements on stage, such as curtains, props, and lights. All things considered, they're a handy group to have around.

The boys who make up this group are Dave Lattimer, Dick Hyde, Gary Grose, and Bill Simonson, standing on the ladder. Dale Grimes and Tom Jones, standing on the floor, also lend their able assistance.

PROJECTION CREW

The projection crew, under the direction of Mr. Barbe, is a helpful group to both the high school and the grade school. They are adept at operating the school projector and are often asked to give up valuable time to show a movie. Besides helping out in many classes, they show the noon movie to the grade school children every day.

The crew consists of Lynn Smith, Mr. Barbe, Tom Jones, Mike Bealer, Kenny Chesmar, Don LeBeau, Dan Pheiffer, Ralph Hayes, John Ludlam, and Pete Pitts.

Recognition Earned by F.F.A.

Herrick, J. Brasee, T. Mitchell, P. Bowman. Row 4: Mr. Hawley, S. Orsik, J. Farnsworth, M. Irish, V. Broud, T. Ewing, C. Green, M. Sprague, R. Eaton, R. Brown, E. Gemmell.

Remaining active under the leadership of Mr. Hawley, the Future Farmers of America began the year with a trip to Kansas for the national convention. Other activities include participation in the district parliamentary procedure contest, and in the public speaking and judging contests. Concluding their year is the exhibition of individual projects at the Lorain County Fair.

"Directions for testing milk are on the wall. Just remember, boys, that milk is harmless, but sulfuric acid . . . !" Doing the testing here are Fred Gott and Terry Walker.

"Men from Mars? Relax. They're only boys from the ag. shop learning how to weld." Glenn Knapp and Vincent Broud are the student welders.

Homemakers Learn By Doing

Row 1: C. Sheffield, G. Sheffield, S. Street, K. McQuate, R. Street, C. Parsons, S. Mathews, B. Searles. Row 2: M. Parsons, E. Gemmel, M. Howk, J. Payne, K. Irish, J. Gannett, B. Settlemyre, G. Walton, D. Barrick, Mrs. Wilkinson. Row 3: P. Stanley, J. Laisure, B. Simkinson, G. Walton, J.

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization comprised of girls who have had at least one year of home economics.

During the year, they took part in many activities. Among the most outstanding events of the year were two dances sponsored in co-operation with the F. F. A. In addition, they prepared a banquet for members of the faculty and held a children's Easter party. They concluded a very successful year with their annual parent-daughter banquet.

The F. H. A. officers are B. Searles, vice-pres.; D. Settlemyre, student advisor; M. Honoshofsky, pres.; C. Parsons, program chairman; C. Sheffield, degrees chairman; G. Walton, treas.; B. Settlemyre, sec.; J. Gannett; L. Hilliker, news reporter; and S. Carmen, historian.

Membership in National Honor Society is one of the greatest honors that a school can bestow upon its students. Those chosen by the faculty for membership must possess the qualities of leadership, scholarship, character, and service. Seven of these members were chosen in their junior year. They are: Carol Foster, Diane Hoskin, David Lattimer, Gary Perkins, Carolyn Preston, Iva Walker, and Anna Lee Williams. The remaining five were chosen in their senior year: Donald Backhaus, Richard Hyde, Jack Salzman, Donna Settlemyre, and Eleanor Sprague. The group sponsor is Mrs. Hollis Grissinger.
